GOP, Kennedy Agree Economy Still Lagging

But Disagreement Is Seen on What To Do To Spur Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and his Republican critics agree the American economy isn't moving along fast enough.

But they showed in weekend statements that they disagree sharply on what to do about it. Kennedy, outlining his approach at a Democratic rally in Milwaukee, called for congressional action on several bills in his legislative program.

These include measures to provide jobs for young people, to finance medical care for the elderly by Social Security taxes, to aid higher educational institutions and to assist the farmers.

Kennedy defined these as test measures of the issue "between those who feel we should stand still and those who feel we should move ahead."

Republican congressional leaders, on the other hand, denounced what they called Kennedy's "incredible zest" for more executive power and bigger government.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana chided Kennedy in a joint statement Sunday for failure to produce the rise in the economy they said he had promised in the 1960 presidential campaign.

Dirksen had Halleck contend that Kennedy's fiscal policies, which they said had led New Frontier economists to predict a $100-billion budget in a year or two, have slowed down rather than accelerated business recovery.

The two GOP leaders said that by increasing federal spending Kennedy has made any tax cut "utterly hopeless." They linked the spending rise to what they said were the President's "strenuous efforts" to gain more executive power.

They added, "It is not a coincidence that the cost of government goes up in direct proportion to the demands for more presidential authority—in fact the first is the product of the second."

Just how effective these issues might become in this year's congressional campaign remains to be demonstrated. Republicans felt, however, they might offset the high personal popularity they concede the President is enjoying at this time.

Titov Home, Says Pleased by Yanks

MOSCOW (AP)—Spaceman Gherman Titov told the Soviet people today after his return from the United States that there's no place like home.

Titov wrote in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper: "I returned home, heaved in a breathful of clear spring air, and told the comrades welcoming me, despite all the comforts of America, there is no land on earth better than our dear, wonderful Soviet homeland!"

Titov said he would never forget "the friendly smiles and hearty handshakes of the ordinary Americans, who are well disposed to our country."

City's Street Improvement Program Is Open For Public Inspection; Hearing Will Be Slated

A comprehensive street improvement program report, prepared by Circleville Service Director-Engineer Ronald Sharrett, is scheduled for additional study by City Council.

Copies of the improvement plan are on file in the Service Director's office at Washington and Ohio Sts. The outline program is open to public inspection. Sharrett and Mayor Richard Penn said criticisms and suggestions will be welcomed from interested persons.

According to Mayor Penn, Council probably will schedule a future public hearing on Sharrett's outlined program. Again the gen-

Palmer Will Spearhead Program

'One Great Day of Selling' Scheduled Here on Thursday

Thursday has been labeled an important day in Circleville by the local Area Chamber of Commerce. With concentrated efforts to improve the economic outlook in Circleville now and in the future, the Chamber has scheduled the appropriate program of "One Great Day of Selling."

Community-wide support is urged to make the event a successful one.

Spearheading the all-day program will be Fred Palmer, outstanding sales consultant who has been secured by the Chamber to present his training program. The business expert is widely known throughout the country.

Chamber President Charles Schieber described Palmer as a man amazingly successful in his field. "But he can't help us in Circleville without our full cooperation," he added.

TWO MAJOR problems in business today in Circleville and elsewhere are selling and meeting the public in a diplomatic manner. Palmer tackles these factors, backed by his vast amount of experience across the nation, in an effort to present explanations and offer solutions.

A main point of Palmer's philosophy is that "everybody is a salesman."

"Everyone must constantly sell a thing, an idea, or himself," he says. "Even a mother in her home is a saleslady, for she must sell herself to her children in order to be obeyed."

The "One Great Day of Selling" is designed to touch on all walks of business. Scheiber said a receptionist or office worker, in dealing with the public, will derive great benefit from this training.

First portion of the program will be 3 p. m. Thursday in the BPO Elks Lodge. This will be a sales clinic for bankers, sales managers, auto salesmen, realtors, industry and utilities.

At 7:30 p. m. the program will convene in the Circleville High School Auditorium. This second portion of the program will be a general sales clinic for everyone, including salesmen, salesladies, office personnel, community leaders and housewives.

TICKETS will be available at Gallaber's, Mason's, L. M. Butch Co., Moore's Store, Bingman's, Penney's, Mac's, North End Market and The Herald. Duets also may be obtained by contacting the Chamber office.

The Chamber urged community leaders to promote attendance of sales and office personnel. Worthwhile and friendly sessions are promised.

Once Around Roundtown

DOUBLE AWARD. . . Valerie Hamilton, who was presented with a $25 bond during the BPO Elks-sponsored All County Prom Friday evening at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, also received one of the grand door prizes, a piece of luggage. . . Larry Cremons, Walnut Twp. High School, won the man's luggage.

"KNOW YOUR police officers" is the latest theme for the Circleville Police Department's bulletin board at City Hall.

The board now contains large pictures of all city officers and members of State Highway Patrol Post No. 65. . . Photos of Sheriff Walton W. Spangler's staff will be added within the next couple of days.

The pictures coincide with National Police Officers Week which is being observed here. . . All State Highway Patrol Posts in Ohio are conducting "Open House" this week. . . City and county departments have similar plans.

Sheriff Spangler plans an open house on Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. . . The jail, kitchen, dispatcher's office and the sheriff's residence will be open for public inspection. . . Special activities also are being lined up by Police Chief Robert Temple.

INITIAL WORK for construction of the new First National Bank is well under way. . . New temporary headquarters is being set up across the street in the Crist building and a demolition crew is hard at work on the old structure. . . A sidewalk protective barrier has been erected in front of the bank's former Personal Loan office.

15 Ohioans Summoned By Anti-Red Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifteen persons from the Cleveland area have been subpoenaed by the House Committee on Un-American Activities to testify at hearings starting here June 4.

In keeping with its normal policy, the committee declined to identify the witnesses.

The hearings will deal with Communist activities in Ohio, particularly in the Cleveland area.

Feuding Laos Princes Shun Peace Parley Call

Red Chinese Supplies Eyed

'Privileged Sanctuary' Debate May Rage Anew

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Serious deterioration of the situation in Laos could revive an old argument over whether to strike at supply bases inside Communist China.

Reliable informants said today some U.S. military leaders in the Pacific suggested recently that thought be given to hitting at bases in south China's Yunnan Province, believed to be a source of supply for pro-Communist forces across the border in Laos.

The idea reportedly was advanced as one of a range of measures that conceivably could be taken if the United States should decide to commit itself completely in the struggle to keep the Communists from overrunning Southeast Asia.

It was understood U.S. civilian leaders were not very receptive to the suggestion.

Military officials who spoke of hitting at bases inside Red China reportedly voiced a belief it would not bring on direct Chinese military intervention in Southeast Asia and thus a possible major war with the United States.

The dispute over whether the Communists should be allowed a "privileged sanctuary" in China dates back to the Korean conflict when President Harry S. Truman fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur from command in the Far East.

MacArthur was sacked mainly because he persistently advocated publicly that he be allowed to bomb Red bases in Manchuria. He did so in the face of U.S. policy to keep the war inside Korea, even though masses of Communist Chinese troops had poured into North Korea to fight U.S. and U.N. forces.

It was not clear at what point U.S. military officers now proposing consideration of direct action against Red Chinese bases in Yunnan would want to take such action—in event the pro-Communists were about to engulf all of Laos, if pro-Western Thailand were seriously endangered, or if Chinese soldiers actually entered the Laotian struggle.

U.S. officials have said there is no evidence any Chinese Communists so far have made an appearance in Laos.

U.S. Fires Eleventh A-Shot in Series

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 11th blast of the U.S. nuclear test series in the atmosphere was set off today near Christmas Island in the Pacific.

The announcement from the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department said it was another shot in the intermediate range covers a blast equivalent to between 20,000 and 1 million tons of TNT.

New A-Sub Readied

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The nuclear submarine Sam Houston soon will join six other Polaris-firing missile subs on operational patrol following completion of a series of test firings.

The ministry said the Communists fired 22 rounds at the little islands at the northern end of the Formosa Strait.

It did not disclose whether the defenders replied to the attack, but the Nationalist policy has been to ignore minor shelling.

MEET WITH J.F.K. ON ASIA — Sec. of State Dean Rusk and Under Sec. of State George Ball arrive at White House for a conference with President Kennedy on the deteriorating situation in Laos. With them is Assistant Sec. of State W. Averill Harriman.

Laos Crisis Brings U.S. Military Alert

WASHINGTON (AP)—American forces throughout the United States and the Pacific area were under alert today as permission was awaited to land U.S. combat Marines in Thailand, which borders Communist-embattled Laos.

Thai officials were expected to agree promptly to the U.S. request for landing of the Marine force in the little kingdom.

The move involving the Marines was ordered by President Kennedy as part of his broad strategy to bolster anti-Communist defenses in Southeast Asia. It also was aimed at getting U.S. troops into position for quick intervention in Laos itself should he decide such action is necessary and desirable.

In rapid developments: The Marine detachment of 2,000 combat-ready men moved into Southeast Asian waters as part of a 7th Fleet aircraft carrier task force. Other elements of the powerful 7th Fleet were steaming toward the crisis area under orders issued Saturday by Kennedy.

The President put on alert land, sea and air forces in the United States and the Pacific area. The alert was reported far short of the type of warning that would be given to troops in the event of war. Units alerted included those of the new strike command, which can move swiftly in the event of so-called brush fire wars.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commanding officer of U.S. military advisory forces in South Viet Nam, flew to Thailand to confer with officials at Bangkok. Kennedy's order that the military take "precautionary measures" was designed (1) to put power behind U.S. diplomatic efforts to end peacefully the new outbreak of the Laos fighting and (2) to be prepared for a fight if necessary.

Kennedy met with his top military and diplomatic advisers Sunday for 70 minutes, his third conference on the Laotian situation in three days.

Undersecretary of State George Ball left the conference to appear on a television interview. He said that a peaceful settlement was possible if the Soviet Union would cooperate.

Ball reported the United States had asked Russia to get Communist-supported Pathet Lao troops pulled back to the cease-fire line from which they have been advancing in northwest Laos for about 10 days. Restoration of the year-old cease-fire would lead to revival of negotiations for a "government of national union" in Laos, and Ball made clear that is the immediate U.S. objective.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily F. Kuznetsov is reported to have told British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts in Moscow Saturday that the Kremlin still wanted such a government.

Ball noted that under the 1954 Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pact the United States has certain defense obligations in the area. Thailand is a member of the pact, and treaty protections were drawn broadly enough to cover Laos and some other countries in the area that are not actual signers of the treaty.

Prince, Princess Are Married Twice

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Prince Juan Carlos of Spain and Princess Sophie of Greece were married today in two religious ceremonies as tens of thousands of Greeks cheered.

The dashing prince, groomed by Generalissimo Francisco Franco to occupy the long vacant Spanish throne, first married the daughter of Greece's rulers in his own faith at the Roman Catholic Cathedral of St. Denis.

They rode together through the streets to the royal palace, smiling and waving to the cheering throngs. Then they separated and were driven to the Greek Orthodox Cathedral for the Orthodox ceremony required by Greek law and Sophie's faith.

Chinese Reds Bombard Matsu Islands Briefly

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Communists shelled the Matsu Islands Sunday for the first time in almost 19 months, the Nationalist Defense Ministry reported.

The ministry said the Communists fired 22 rounds at the little islands at the northern end of the Formosa Strait.

It did not disclose whether the defenders replied to the attack, but the Nationalist policy has been to ignore minor shelling.

U.S. Envoys Greeted Coldly

Yank Show of Force Has No Effect Yet

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—American diplomats strove today to bring the warring factions in Laos to the conference table but the feuding princes so far could not agree on conditions for resumption of peace talks.

Reliable sources said the U.S. diplomatic effort, backed up by an open show of military might, was making little headway toward getting pro-Communist forces back behind the cease-fire line.

Prince Boun Oum's royal government cabled Prince Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist leader vacationing in Paris, to return home for peace talks.

Souvanna agreed, but only if Boun Oum sent a delegation to the rebel headquarters in the Plain de Jarres for talks with his aides to draft a preliminary agreement.

U.S. ambassadors in Vientiane and Paris served as intermediaries in delivering the exchanges. Neither the governor nor Prince Souvanna showed any inclination to modify their demands.

There was no word of further advances by the pro-Communists who overrun government outposts in the northwest and sent 2,000 royal troops fleeing across the Mekong River to neighboring Thailand.

Diplomats in touch with rebel headquarters in Khang Khay said leaders of the Red-lining Pathet Lao warned that the sooner talks get under way toward setting up a coalition government the better. After driving 100 miles beyond the cease-fire line in a week, the rebels reportedly threatened another all-out offensive unless a political settlement is reached.

Souvanna, backed by the United States and Russia, was designated by King Savang Vatthana six months ago to form a national unity government.

The neutralist leader made several attempts but they collapsed when the anti-Communist Vientiane leaders demanded the key posts of defense and interior in the coalition government.

The Vientiane regime now wants to test Souvanna's ability to control his allies of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao led by his half-brother Prince Souphanouvong.

Laos Town Is Evacuated But Not Occupied by Reds

EDITOR'S NOTE — AP Correspondent Tony Escoda flew by helicopter from Chiangrai, in northern Thailand, to the Mekong River border with Laos and took a motorized homestead launch across the river to the Laotian town of Houei Sai, which had been reported captured by Communist forces Friday. Here is his report:

By TONY ESCODA

HOUEI SAI, Laos (AP)—Houei Sai was a ghost town today following a mass evacuation into Thai territory by government troops and civilians late last week.

The Royal Laotian flag still flew over the town's fort and a dozen government troops aimlessly patrolled the deserted streets.

Mayor Phouey Chatanga, back on an inspection tour of his town, said he believed the nearest main body of pro-Communist forces was about 30 miles away. No one could tell, however, how close advance Red guerrilla elements might be.

The town itself apparently had never been occupied by the Reds. Eyewitnesses reported only that there had been some shooting and some "explosions" before the government forces pulled out. Several homes were damaged, but it could not be determined immediately whether the cause had been Red shells.

It was believed that the evacuation had been prompted chiefly by fear of a Communist offensive against the river town, coming soon after the Reds' capture of Nam Tha, some 80 miles north. Many of the 2,000 Laotian troops who fled into Thailand were reported to have been remnants of the garrisons at Nam Tha and Muong Sing, which had been overrun by the Communists earlier.

The evacuation into Thailand was started by government troops last Wednesday and ran through Friday in what an eyewitness described as "two days of hell."

The witness, Dr. Carl Wiedermann of the Tom Dooley Foundation Hospital in Houei Sai, said the movement across the river was totally disorganized. He said troops crammed themselves into little boats—normally used by the market vendors trading between Houei Sai and the Thai border town of Xieng Khoang—in efforts to reach the Thai side.

He said he knew of at least one boat with 40 soldiers aboard that capsized. He said, however, he had seen no bodies of drowned persons. The Mekong at that point is about half a mile wide with a fairly swift current at midstream.

Wiedermann, a German, said many of the government soldiers who had streamed down from the north were exhausted. He said some of them told of "many bodies" left along the way.

Apparently no move was being made by the military to set up new defenses against the pro-Communists in Houei Sai, and no one here knew how long the royal government's flag would continue to fly over the fort.

Changes Listed For Sewer Job

Several changes have been contemplated for the Ashville-Teays Valley Storm Sewer project, according to the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners.

Current plans call for a specified area to be removed from the district and another area added. Appropriate reassessments also are planned.

Prosecutor Robert Huffer said the changes will be included in a resolution which will be drawn within the next few days. The Commission probably will take action on the new measure at its meeting next Monday.

Several objections had been filed concerning the original project plans. Commissioners said they feel the new resolution will settle the protests.

Steele Produce Co., 135 E. Franklin St., is celebrating its 30th anniversary this week. Dwight Steele, manager, founded the business in May 1932, during the depths of the depression.

Changes Listed For Sewer Job

Several changes have been contemplated for the Ashville-Teays Valley Storm Sewer project, according to the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners.

Current plans call for a specified area to be removed from the district and another area added. Appropriate reassessments also are planned.

Prosecutor Robert Huffer said the changes will be included in a resolution which will be drawn within the next few days. The Commission probably will take action on the new measure at its meeting next Monday.

Several objections had been filed concerning the original project plans. Commissioners said they feel the new resolution will settle the protests.

Ohio Solon Expects Kennedy To Aid in Ohio Dem Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio, predicts Ohio will be one of the main battlegrounds in the fall elections and that the Kennedy Administration "will probably send everybody out there except Caroline." Minshall's comments reflected speculation that President Kennedy as well as members of his family and top Administration officials may visit Ohio during the campaign in an effort to prove the President's political stock is higher there than when he lost the state in 1960.

Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, says the United States has "helped to build a despotic reign of terror" in the African nation of Ghana. "President Kwame Nkrumah is running a police state, yet only last year the U. S. pledged $133 million to help finance a huge power dam and aluminum plant," Ashbrook said. He also noted it has been announced in Moscow that Nkrumah has been awarded the Lenin Peace Prize.

Rep. Walter H. Moeller, D-

Ohio, says recent passage of a record peacetime military appropriation bill of $47.8 billion demonstrates "the utter absurdity of the 'no win policy' charge heard from time to time from the radical right wing extremists in this country."

Moeller said the Army's current fighting strength is rated at 50 percent above a year ago and that "the number of operation Atlas and Titan intercontinental ballistic missiles will triple in 1962—and triple again in 1963."

Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, reports Ohioans received $722,949,000 in Social Security benefits last year, according to figures furnished him by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"Old-age, dependent and survivor benefits totaled $674,778,000; lump sum death benefits $9,618,000; and payments to disabled workers and their dependents $48,171,000," Brown said.

He said $72,974 persons in Ohio were beneficiaries of Social Security, old-age and disability payments at the end of 1961.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission is trying to find a formula for conducting a hard-hitting public investigation without hitting hard. The results so far have been very spotty.

The initial experiment was conducted last week and involved five days of hearings on the hiring, training, fitness, supervision and sales practices of securities salesmen. The inquiry will resume Wednesday.

At the direction of Congress, the SEC is studying the entire securities industry to determine whether new laws, regulations or procedures are needed to protect the investing public.

In these first hearings, investigators want to compile a public record to support tighter controls over those who sell stocks, mutual fund shares and other securities. Yet Milton H. Cohen, director of the inquiry and presiding officer at the hearings, seemed at the outset to depreciate the significance of the testimony taken. He said:

"In requesting particular individuals or firms to present testimony, the special study does not mean to suggest, even remotely, that anyone of them is a model of good or bad performance as compared with others in the industry. Furthermore, in inquiring about particular practices or occurrences, we do not mean to suggest that these are necessarily typical of the particular firm's performance in other respects, or of the industry's performance."

In other words, if anyone wants to draw any conclusions from the evidence presented, he is on his own and gets no encouragement from the investigators.

SEC lawyers repeatedly passed up opportunities to emphasize important revelations and some points were lost entirely. Also, it was apparent more than once that punches were being pulled.

A good example was the questioning on Friday of top officials of Bache & Co., one of the five largest stock brokerage chains in the country.

Bache officials, apparently unaware of evidence gathered by the SEC, denied allegations of irregularities in their Seattle office. Harold L. Bache, senior partner, said the charges came from a "very disturbed" former employee.

6 High School Boys Burn Cross at Home

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Six seniors at Lemon - Monroe High School are to face Mayor's Court Wednesday on charges of disorderly conduct in burning a cross in front on the school principal's home. County detectives said two 17-year-old boys were also cited to Juvenile Court in the case, one charged with telephoning a hoax bomb threat to the school, the other accused of taking part in the cross-burning.

A conference of seniors with school officials last week indicated students thought school rules too strict—especially a rule against the twist at school dances.

The investigators then produced evidence to support some of the allegations, but in such rapid fire and fuzzy fashion that their case was quite confusing. The Bache officials backtracked a bit but much of their testimony remained in direct conflict with sworn statements produced by the SEC. Commission attorneys did not press their tactical advantage nor point up the conflicts.

There Is Always Hope

Former President Eisenhower seldom has spoken with deeper feeling than at the dedication of the library that will house his state papers at Abilene, Kans. The nostalgic surroundings of his boyhood, the presence of family and old friends, the occasion itself, inspired a pensiveness not often revealed in the Eisenhower personality.

In this mood, Mr. Eisenhower found the nation wanting. Needed, he said, was a cultural and moral resurgence to match the great scientific and material progress of the last century. Gyrations of the twist, the muck of some current films and writing, the dripping paint of modern art symbolized to him a warping of the national fiber.

With due allowance for the fact that no generation ever appears quite as wayward as the current one, Mr. Eisenhower no doubt will find agreement with much of what he said. But there also is stirring a renaissance for which he pleads, and not just in the big cities, where symphonies once more fill concert halls.

It may be found, as well, in the cultural prairies — among the surge of adult students and crossroad seminars, the little theater groups and Sunday painters. No modern Plato or Michelangelo may arise from their midst. Still, there seems to be hope that America may yet avoid the fate of ancient Rome.

Leniency Breeds Crime

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation, writing in the FBI's Law Enforcement Journal, has issued a stern condemnation of the lenient justice meted out to hardened criminals by modern criminal jurisprudence.

"We shall see no abatement in the scourge of lawlessness as long as 'soft justice' is the vogue," he said. Law officers everywhere recognize the undeniable rising incidence of crime among persons convicted of a major crime and paroled within a few years or months to again prey upon society.

Most Federal Convicts Return

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

With most federal prisoners it's a matter of "out again, in again." Within five years after their release, 65 per cent are back behind bars.

Girls, if you want to go where the boys are, go to college. Enrollment of boys outnumbers girls in the ratio of 13-10. The big reason: most parents still think a sheepskin is more important to a son than to a daughter.

Did you know you spend about 45 per cent of your waking time listening?

Another 25 per cent is spent in talking, reading and writing.

Odd regulations: In Sweden youngsters under 18 must have a letter from the king in order to get married. West German police must carry knives equipped with corkscrews. An Oregon law once banned motorists from driving with their shoes off.

Health hint: If city fumes choke you, move to a desert. The cleanest air in the nation is found over deserts.

Latest news from the farm: Cows that lounge on foam rubber mattresses gave more milk than those that are bedded on straw.

Our quotable notables: "I have suffered from being misunderstood, but I would have suffered a hell of a lot more if I had been understood."—Clarence Darrow.

Paging Horatio Alger: Starting at the bottom of the ladder has its penalties. Some studies show that lads who had to struggle all the way up to top managerial positions wind up in poorer health than those who stepped from college into a fairly good post. How they got started: Yul Brynner was a trapeze performer. Dick Clark first aspired to be a banker. Bandleader Xavier Cugat was a newspaper cartoonist.

Money talk: During the middle ages India used fish hooks as currency. All the world's stock of mined gold could be put into a room 30 feet high and 30 feet square.

Nature notes: A waving green flag will annoy a bull just as much as a red one. A cricket an inch long can make a chirp loud enough to be heard a mile away. You can hold a queen bee in your hand in perfect safety — all she will sting is another queen bee.

It was Miguel de Cervantes who observed, "Everyone is as God has made him, and often a great deal worse."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

CHICAGO (AP)—Action, not talk, speaks loud to Chicago businessmen.

Most of the top executives interviewed in a survey of Midwestern thinking on government-business relations say they believe President Kennedy is sincere in his assurances he isn't antibusiness. But with few exceptions they qualify that at once by citing deeds and trends that bring them up short.

"It's one thing to say the administration is not antibusiness," says Robert E. Brooker, who took over as president of Montgomery Ward last fall. "But that isn't very convincing if at the same time various federal agencies or departments are taking actions that harass business."

"Many restrictive rules keep popping up. The trouble is largely at a lower level than the presidency. Officials who are antibusiness and antibusiness may make the rules and regulations."

Any trend toward more federal regulation must be halted, in the view of John E. Swearingen, president of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana). He thinks government is applying pointless regulatory brakes to business in many important ways.

"Business baiting has become too popular a sport," he contends. As to government intervention in price policies—as in the recent case of a price boost attempt by steel companies, Swearingen holds that prices for oil products "must eventually be increased, if wages, materials and the other things we buy continue to increase—although I recognize that price increases have not been a popular subject in recent weeks."

Another oil man, who asked not to be identified by name or company, was more emphatic: "Even before President Kennedy moved against the steel firms, there was every sign of enmity to big business as such among a small but powerful group in Washington bent on deciding what's best for business."

"These men were using all the forces of government they could to move against big business on several fronts, such as antitrust suits, or blocking merger."

He added: "Business should be left alone to work out its own problems."

Robert W. Galvin, president of Motorola, electronics and electric appliance firm in Franklin Park, Ill., thinks President Kennedy isn't antibusiness himself but is moving toward a new era in which one group of officials often accused of being antibusiness will decide what's right and best for the country.

"Private business, with its many cross currents of interest, can best set the course of the economy," Galvin contends.

Joseph L. Block, chairman of Inland Steel Co., which bucked the steel price hike, disagrees with some of the methods the administration is using in policing business and labor. But, unlike many of the others, he thinks the government has the right to set forth the national interest and advise both sides in strong terms as to what it thinks would be bad for the public in general. He adds that neither side is required under present laws, nor should be compelled, to accept the government's ideas.

Most of those interviewed said their talks with other executives in the Midwestern area showed an almost unanimous opposition to the methods the President used in fighting the steel price rise—even among those who thought the hike itself would have been unwise.

The executives said they found the fear of a growing antibusiness trend spreading among their conferees, although only a few of these would say they thought the President sincere in his subsequent proffer of an olive branch.

BESSIE MOORE tells of the Little Rock father who told his 7-year-old son, "Floyd, I have a surprise for you. The stork flew in last night and left a little brother for you. Why don't you write your sister the good news?" The boy wrote as follows: "Dear Sis: You owe me two bucks. It's a boy."

Herb Stein tells about a parent with a sly sense of humor who put a sign on the back of his young hopeful just learning to toddle off by himself to kindergarten. The sign read: "Caution: Student Pedestrian."

Stein also offers a new definition for alimony: bounty on the mutiny.

Flying high above the Rockies one morning, an American Airlines jet pilot got a laugh with this announcement over the loud speaker: "We are flying at an altitude of 32,000 feet and the temperature outside is 41 degrees below zero. We suggest that you stay inside."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Will you be hit by an auto this year?

About 300,000 pedestrians will. For every 25 autos rolling off the assembly line, one will strike a pedestrian before it hits the junk pile because of bad walking, not bad driving!

In most fatal encounters, the pedestrian is at fault. He's usually violating some traffic regulation: jay-walking, crossing against the light, jumping out from between parked cars.

Teen-agers and young adults are spry enough to jump out of the way. Children are more vulnerable. Fragile oldsters are easily crushed by lunging horsepower.

Alcohol and walking don't seem to mix. Studies show that every second slaughtered pedestrian is under the influence — in no condition to drive or walk!

The modern, flowing lines of today's cars have blunted most sharp points. Streamlined autos rarely leave jagged cuts and piercing punctures.

Instead, you're battered and bounced. The auto hits you and you strike the pavement.

Most fatal injuries look deceptively innocent. The 200-horsepower thrust spreads its crushing pressure over several parts of body. Like a rubber hose, it leaves the skin unblemished.

Serious hidden injuries are deep inside. Bones crack, arteries spurt and internal organs are ripped open. Fractured pelvic bones often hide life-threatening hemorrhage.

Radar control of traffic and stiff penalties for the careless driver, such as loss of license, help enforce safe driving rules. But what can you do when jay-walking fines merely irritate the pedestrian? Take away his shoes?

Like old-fashioned locomotives, future cars may carry net-age cow-catchers. Instead of striking the pavement, the pedestrian will land in the net!

Some day, you'll be able to walk on elevated sidewalks without having to dart in and out of traffic. But today, you still have to stop, look and listen before stepping off the curb.

If you drink, let coffee steady your sole. And cross only at the green.

Remember, you're no match for charging horsepower! Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Why Be Frightened?

This is a paragraph of a letter from a New York lawyer:

"... I believe that Kennedy has deliberately surrounded himself with Socialists, that he aims to tamper with our economic life to the detriment of the people who are losing control of their own existence, and I think that you and others, whose writings influence the public opinion and frighten candidates, should protest against the trend. ... We older ones owe this obligation to our children and grandchildren who will be the innocent victims of Socialism after we are gone."

Why is he so frightened? He believes that we are on the verge of socialism. I have heard that outcry since I was a small child. It was heard here in New York when William Randolph Hearst ran for Mayor in 1909. It was then claimed that Hearst was a socialist who would destroy business when, as a matter of fact, he was a capitalist who was building a big business. It was said of Theodore Roosevelt when he interfered in labor-management matters, particularly in the coal strikes. It was said of Gifford Pinchot when he fought for conservation of our natural resources. It was said of Upton Sinclair when he fought against the pollution of our food. It is always said about anyone who uncovers a scandal or offers a reform.

But socialism is clearly definable: it is government ownership of the means of production and distribution and exchange. There are many kinds of socialists. For instance, George Bernard Shaw was a socialist because he believed that poverty is a sin. Beatrice and Sidney Webb, who were the heart and soul of British Fabian Socialism, would, in this country, have been called reformers and their proposals were not as radical as those of the elder La Follette. In this country, neither Eugene V. Debs nor Norman Thomas were socialists of the Bolshevik stripe and among Communists they would be regarded as Utopians, as dreamers for a better world without the willingness to be revolutionary to achieve it.

No President of the United States has been a socialist. Andrew Jackson was, at worst, a precursor of the Populists. Theodore Roosevelt, in retrospect, must be regarded as one who rescued American capitalism from its own excesses.

The Marxists say that capitalism contains the seeds for its own destruction. We have been fortunate in this country that whenever those seeds grew into gall-stones, some way appeared to do some major surgery without killing the patient.

The Sherman Anti-Trust Law is an example of precisely such an operation and it is often forgotten that it was the conservative William Howard Taft who did most to enforce this law.

These days one hears much in complaint of the Supreme Court, but were it not for the early decisions of Chief Justice John Marshall, it is very doubtful if this nation could have survived at all, because he defined the relations between the powerful States and the weak Federal Government.

If President Washington had his Alexander Hamilton, other Presidents sought advice from those whom they trusted. There is considerable criticism these days of President Kennedy's advisers and associates. That was true in the time of President Hoover and President Franklin D. Roosevelt. When Roosevelt organized his brain trust he was accused of surrounding himself with socialists. Well, no one would call Raymond Moley a socialist today. Myself, I would call him a scholarly conservative. Adolf Berle is a liberal who has been effective in the fight against Communism.

Felix Frankfurter, who was regarded as the worst of all, has, for years, led the conservatives among Supreme Court Justices. I recently heard Henry Wallace deliver an address which no one could possibly call socialist.

Men may differ on how to save the world but labels do not guide us to the truth. Also, anyone who, even for a short period, has the responsibility of high office, soon enough discovers the difference between campaign talk and practical operations. The difference between the outs and the ins is that the outs may say what they please because they never need do anything about what they say; when a man is actually in office, what he says becomes an act.

For instance, had Nixon been elected instead of Kennedy, he could not have reduced the cost of experimenting with missiles and rockets and space ships which take such a bite out of our budget.

There Is Always Hope

Former President Eisenhower seldom has spoken with deeper feeling than at the dedication of the library that will house his state papers at Abilene, Kans. The nostalgic surroundings of his boyhood, the presence of family and old friends, the occasion itself, inspired a pensiveness not often revealed in the Eisenhower personality.

In this mood, Mr. Eisenhower found the nation wanting. Needed, he said, was a cultural and moral resurgence to match the great scientific and material progress of the last century. Gyrations of the twist, the muck of some current films and writing, the dripping paint of modern art symbolized to him a warping of the national fiber.

Leniency Breeds Crime

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation, writing in the FBI's Law Enforcement Journal, has issued a stern condemnation of the lenient justice meted out to hardened criminals by modern criminal jurisprudence.

"We shall see no abatement in the scourge of lawlessness as long as 'soft justice' is the vogue," he said. Law officers everywhere recognize the undeniable rising incidence of crime among persons convicted of a major crime and paroled within a few years or months to again prey upon society.

Most Federal Convicts Return

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

With most federal prisoners it's a matter of "out again, in again." Within five years after their release, 65 per cent are back behind bars.

Girls, if you want to go where the boys are, go to college. Enrollment of boys outnumbers girls in the ratio of 13-10. The big reason: most parents still think a sheepskin is more important to a son than to a daughter.

Did you know you spend about 45 per cent of your waking time listening?

Another 25 per cent is spent in talking, reading and writing.

Odd regulations: In Sweden youngsters under 18 must have a letter from the king in order to get married. West German police must carry knives equipped with corkscrews. An Oregon law once banned motorists from driving with their shoes off.

Health hint: If city fumes choke you, move to a desert. The cleanest air in the nation is found over deserts.

Latest news from the farm: Cows that lounge on foam rubber mattresses gave more milk than those that are bedded on straw.

Our quotable notables: "I have suffered from being misunderstood, but I would have suffered a hell of a lot more if I had been understood."—Clarence Darrow.

Paging Horatio Alger: Starting at the bottom of the ladder has its penalties. Some studies show that lads who had to struggle all the way up to top managerial positions wind up in poorer health than those who stepped from college into a fairly good post. How they got started: Yul Brynner was a trapeze performer. Dick Clark first aspired to be a banker. Bandleader Xavier Cugat was a newspaper cartoonist.

Money talk: During the middle ages India used fish hooks as currency. All the world's stock of mined gold could be put into a room 30 feet high and 30 feet square.

Nature notes: A waving green flag will annoy a bull just as much as a red one. A cricket an inch long can make a chirp loud enough to be heard a mile away. You can hold a queen bee in your hand in perfect safety — all she will sting is another queen bee.

It was Miguel de Cervantes who observed, "Everyone is as God has made him, and often a great deal worse."

The Business World

CHICAGO (AP)—Action, not talk, speaks loud to Chicago businessmen.

Most of the top executives interviewed in a survey of Midwestern thinking on government-business relations say they believe President Kennedy is sincere in his assurances he isn't antibusiness. But with few exceptions they qualify that at once by citing deeds and trends that bring them up short.

"It's one thing to say the administration is not antibusiness," says Robert E. Brooker, who took over as president of Montgomery Ward last fall. "But that isn't very convincing if at the same time various federal agencies or departments are taking actions that harass business."

"Many restrictive rules keep popping up. The trouble is largely at a lower level than the presidency. Officials who are antibusiness and antibusiness may make the rules and regulations."

Any trend toward more federal regulation must be halted, in the view of John E. Swearingin, president of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana). He thinks government is applying pointless regulatory brakes to business in many important ways.

"Business baiting has become too popular a sport," he contends.

As to government intervention in price policies—as in the recent case of a price boost attempt by steel companies, Swearingin holds that prices for oil products "must eventually be increased, if wages, materials and the other things we buy continue to increase—although I recognize that price increases have not been a popular subject in recent weeks."

Another oil man, who asked not to be identified by name or company, was more emphatic: "Even before President Kennedy moved against the steel firms, there was every sign of enmity to big business as such among a small but powerful group in Washington bent on deciding what's best for business."

"These men were using all the forces of government they could to move against big business on several fronts, such as antitrust suits, or blocking merger."

He added: "Business should be left alone to work out its own problems."

Robert W. Galvin, president of Motorola, electronics and electric appliance firm in Franklin Park, Ill., thinks President Kennedy isn't antibusiness himself but is moving toward a new era in which one group of officials often accused of being antibusiness will decide what's right and best for the country.

"Private business, with its many cross currents of interest, can best set the course of the economy," Galvin contends.

Joseph L. Block, chairman of Inland Steel Co., which bucked the steel price hike, disagrees with some of the methods the administration is using in policing business and labor. But, unlike many of the others, he thinks the government has the right to set forth the national interest and advise both sides in strong terms as to what it thinks would be bad for the public in general. He adds that neither side is required under present laws, nor should be compelled, to accept the government's ideas.

Most of those interviewed said their talks with other executives in the Midwestern area showed an almost unanimous opposition to the methods the President used in fighting the steel price rise—even among those who thought the hike itself would have been unwise.

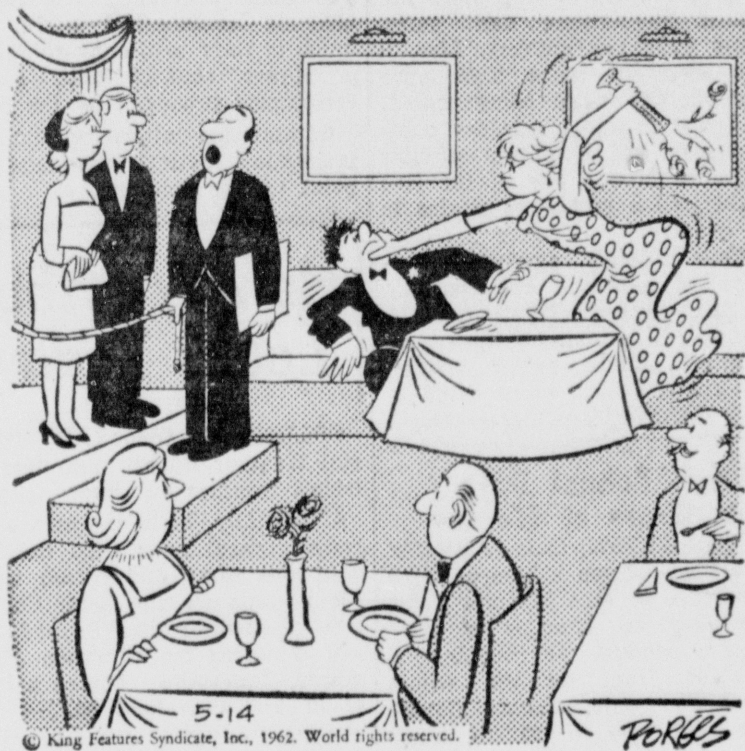

The executives said they found the fear of a growing antibusiness trend spreading among their conferees, although only a few of these would say they thought the President insincere in his subsequent proffer of an olive branch.

Tuesday: What business thinks the administration should do now.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

BESSIE MOORE tells of the Little Rock father who told his 7-year-old son, "Floyd, I have a surprise for you. The stork flew in last night and left a little brother for you. Why don't you write your sister the good news?" The boy wrote as follows: "Dear Sis: You owe me two bucks. It's a boy."

Herb Stein tells about a parent with a sly sense of humor who put a sign on the back of his young hopeful just learning to toddle off by himself to kindergarten. The sign read: "Caution: Student Pedestrian."

Stein also offers a new definition for alimony: bounty on the mutiny.

Flying high above the Rockies one morning, an American Airlines jet pilot got a laugh with this announcement over the loud speaker: "We are flying at an altitude of 32,000 feet and the temperature outside is 41 degrees below zero. We suggest that you stay inside."

"Middle age," opines Orson Falk, "is when your narrow waist and broad mind begin to change places."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Will you be hit by an auto this year?

About 300,000 pedestrians will. For every 25 autos rolling off the assembly line, one will strike a pedestrian before it hits the junk pile because of bad walking, not bad driving!

In most fatal encounters, the pedestrian is at fault. He's usually violating some traffic regulation: jay-walking, crossing against the light, jumping out from between parked cars.

Teen-agers and young adults are spry enough to jump out of the way. Children are more vulnerable. Fragile oldsters are easily crushed by lunging horsepower.

Alcohol and walking don't seem to mix. Studies show that every second slaughtered pedestrian is under the influence — in no condition to drive or walk!

The modern, flowing lines of today's cars have blunted most sharp points. Streamlined autos rarely leave jagged cuts and piercing punctures.

Instead, you're battered and bounced. The auto hits you and you strike the pavement.

Most fatal injuries look deceptively innocent. The 200-horsepower thrust spreads its crushing pressure over several parts of body. Like a rubber hose, it leaves the skin unblemished.

Serious hidden injuries are deep inside. Bones crack, arteries spurt

and internal organs are ripped open. Fractured pelvic bones often hide life-threatening hemorrhage.

Radar control of traffic and stiff penalties for the careless driver, such as loss of license, help enforce safe driving rules. But what can you do when jay-walking fines merely irritate the pedestrian? Take away his shoes?

Like old-fashioned locomotives, future cars may carry net-age cow-catchers. Instead of striking the pavement, the pedestrian will land in the net!

Some day, you'll be able to walk on elevated sidewalks without having to dart in and out of traffic. But today, you still have to stop, look and listen before stepping off the curb.

If you drink, let coffee steady your sole. And cross only at the green.

Remember, you're no match for charging horsepower!

Woman Believes It's Time Women Were Told the Truth

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—A good-looking psychiatrist named Marie N. Robinson thinks it's high time women were told the truth:

They're different from men. They should be educated differently. Their place is in the home.

When she says this, sometimes educators shudder, men rush up to insist their wives are as good as they are and women inquire coldly if she also favors keeping them barefoot and pregnant.

"To acknowledge the difference in sex roles doesn't mean to put women back in the kitchen," Dr. Robinson argues.

"But a woman's historical and biological role is in the home. Her job is keeping the tone of that home happy and loving, interpreting members of the family to each other. This is what we women are uniquely designed for."

"A woman who feels deprived if she can't go out to work every day, who says 'I can't do anything, I have four children to take care of' isn't enjoying the rightful role of women. Our contribution is to set the spiritual tone of the household. Let the men go out and make the money."

Slim, brunette Dr. Robinson, wife of a writer and mother of a 15-year-old son, is the author of "The Power of Sexual Surrender," a study of the frigid woman. Besides maintaining a private practice she is active in community health projects and consequently is not one to point a finger at working wives.

Because a woman's major anxiety is loss of love, Dr. Robinson says, she is more concerned about her home than her job.

"I bring more anxiety to family problems or the kind of dinner I'm going to cook than to my outside work."

There's a crying need for women's colleges to stop turning into men's schools, says Dr. Robinson.

"Instead, some brave school should stand up and say 'women are different, have God-given gifts, and let's see where a woman's pleasure does come from—from chemistry 203 or from keeping the love level high in a family!'"

POODLE SMUGGLED INTO JFK NEWS CONFERENCE — Mrs. Terry Blake Black, 58, from Hollywood, Calif., who calls herself the "glamorous grandmother," holds her tiny poodle, Fifi, as she talks to newsmen in Washington after smuggling the little dog into a presidential news conference in her handbag. President Kennedy did not appear to notice when the dog once let out a yelp. Mrs. Black told the newsmen, "Fifi never has been away from me. She'd cry her heart out if I left her."

Tiger Athletes Slated for Full Schedule

Circleville High School spring athletic squads face a full week of competition with the class AA Central District and regional tournaments in the various sports coming up.

The district championship baseballers have two league encounters scheduled in addition to their regional tilt with Hilliards at Radnor Friday. They play at Miami Trace today. Tomorrow they travel to Wilmington for another league game.

Trace won the Southeastern District championship Thursday by upsetting undefeated Pomeroy in the finals at Athens.

Sam Welker, a senior fireballer for the Tigers, is slated to start today's game, and George Reeser, the winning pitcher in the district championship tilt with Reynoldsburg Friday, will start tomorrow at Wilmington.

The Circleville track team, third place winners in the SCO league meet, has a match scheduled with Pleasant View tomorrow prior to the District meet Friday and Saturday.

John Current's thineclads, although given little chance of winning the district, have been sparkling by some outstanding individual performances this year.

Skip Hansen, although he was disqualified in the 100 yard dash in the SCO meet, has turned in some outstanding times in this event during the year. He placed second in the 220 at the League tilt. Hansen, not accustomed to the long count used by the starter at the league meet, made two false starts in the 100.

Vern Reichmanus has been a consistent winner in the weights events. He was Circleville's only double winner at the League meet, taking both the shot and the discus.

Jimmie Wood won the low hurdles and placed second in the 120-high hurdles.

George Trego turned in the best high jump of the meet to take that event. Unofficially he has cleared six feet in practice although he has never been able to attain that height in a meet.

Bob Ransom's championship golfers tangle with Franklin Heights at the Pickaway Country Club Tuesday. Friday they start Central District competition.

Ailing Minoso Said Improving

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Minnie Minoso suffered a fractured right wrist as well as a fractured skull in his headlong dash into a concrete wall Friday night, X-Rays disclosed Sunday.

The 39-year-old St. Louis Cardinal outfielder was much improved Sunday night. But physicians said it would be four weeks at least before he could put on a uniform and two more weeks of conditioning before he could play.

Dr. Stan London said there was no pressure on Minoso's brain but the fracture was near a blood vessel which could exert pressure and require surgery.

Minoso had a lifetime batting mark of .304 in the American League with Chicago and Cleveland and averaged 18 homers a season.

Hot Young Drivers To Top '500' List

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Former winner Rodger Ward will start his 12th straight 500-mile auto race May 30 in the front row, flanked by the hottest young drivers the Indianapolis Motor Speedway has seen in many years.

Ward, who has been no worse than third in the last three Memorial Day classics, will be sandwiched between Parnelli Jones, first driver to break the one-minute barrier at the 2½-mile track, and smooth Bobby Marshman Jones, from Torrance, Calif., and the 25-year-old Marshman, of Pottstown, Pa., were sensational in the 10-mile qualifying runs which will continue next weekend. Jones upped the record to 150.37 miles an hour with a record single lap at 150.729. Marshman's 149.349 average was third-best, behind Ward's 149.371.

In the 1961 Kentucky Derby, won by Carry Back, Ambipolise ran 12th in the 15-horse field. In the Grey Lag, while in receipt of 10 pounds from Carry Back Ambipolise finished first, Carry Back second.

Tiger Golfers Win SCO Championship

Circleville High School's golfers captured the first SCO league golf championship Saturday when they shot a team total of 326 to better Pleasant View, their closest rival, by 13 strokes.

Five schools, the minimum number required for league competition, fielded teams in the SCO tourney at the Washington Country Club. This is the first year golf has been given league status.

The Tigers topped all competition, Pleasant View was second with 339 and Wilmington's 348 team total was good for third. Franklin Heights golfers shot 353 for the 18 holes and Washington C. H. had 378.

Bob Fuhrman shot rounds of 39 and 38 on the par 72 course for a total of 77. He was tied with Steve Flee of Washington C. H. for medalist honors.

Fayette Race Program Set For Sunday

Racing will be under the rules of the United States Trotting Assn. with licensed judges and starting gate. Post time is 1:30 p. m.

Gate admission will be charged adults only. Proceeds will be used to improve the Fayette Fairgrounds track and facilities.

Seven and possibly eight dashes will be contested. In case of rain, the races will be conducted the following Sunday.

Palmer, Pott Set To Vie in Texas Playoff

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Faltering Arnold Palmer and today to square a little matter of $7,000 and the championship of the $40,000 National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Palmer, in one of his rare golfing lapses, necessitated an 18-hole playoff when he bogied two of the last three holes Sunday and missed a 12-foot birdie putt on No. 18 that would have given him his sixth current title.

The muscular Pennsylvanian soared to a 76 in the final round of the tournament and enabled Pott, with a one-under-par 69, to move from seven strokes back into a tie at 281.

An all-time record crowd of 16,000 watched Palmer sail his approach shot on No. 18 to within a dozen feet of the cup as Pott watched from the clubhouse balcony.

But the putt rolled to the edge of the cup and died, and Pott, looking somewhat stunned, got another chance to pocket the $7,000. The runner-up gets $3,500.

Even more woeful than Palmer was Bruce Crampton, an easy-going Australian, who should get the hard-luck trophy of the 17th annual event.

The double-bogey six, his second at 18 in two days, gave him a 74 and third place at 282, two over par. It paid $2,500.

Former national amateur champ Jack Nicklaus, who has finished in the money 15 of the 16 times he's played as a professional, trimmed one stroke from par for a 69, a 284 total, fourth place and $2,000.

Two high price sons of Nashua won on opening day this spring at Garden State in Camden, N. J., Nassua Hall, a $55,000 purchase, won the Delaware Valley Stakes and Injun, a $58,000 buy won the last race.

Johnson's Ring Future in Doubt

Embattled Manager Holds Champ's Key

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) — The light heavyweight champion of all the world but California is going to have to await the pleasure of his manager before he knows when his next fight will be.

Harold Johnson of Philadelphia successfully defended his National Boxing Association crown in Philadelphia Saturday night by winning a unanimous 15-round decision over challenger Doug Jones of New York. In doing so he added New York State, Europe and Massachusetts to his title domain.

New York, Europe and Massachusetts joined the NBA in unfrocking Archie Moore and recognizing the Johnson-Jones winner as undisputed light heavyweight champion. California remains adamant in looking to its home-bred Moore as the division king.

The 33-year-old Johnson, weighing a surprisingly light 171½ pounds, lived up to his reputation of a master boxer. His 16 years of experience was written all over his actions as he speared the younger Jones with jabs, battered him with overhand rights and counterpunched the junior fighter into submission. Jones, 25, also weighed 171½.

Most of the post bout talk was on what's ahead for the champion. Officials from Madison Square Garden and a representative of a German promoter swarmed around him in his dressing room.

The Garden wants him to fight Zora Folley in a non-title bout June 9. The German promoter wants Johnson for a title fight against Gustav Scholz in West Berlin June 16.

The decision rests in the hands of Pat Olivieri, Johnson's manager of record, who has a temporary injunction prohibiting the champion from fighting without the manager's permission.

Johnson's purse was $20,000 plus 40 per cent of the gate. A crowd of 5,137 paid a gross of $31,784.

Mickey Wright Grabs Another

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A birdie on the 72nd hole and a par on the fourth hole of a sudden death playoff gave Mickey Wright the Women's Western Open Golf Championship—and a big boost in her drive toward a grand slam.

The birdie on the final hole of the fourth round Sunday tied Miss Wright at 295 with defending champion Mary Lena Faulk of Sea Island, Ga. Both parred the first three sudden death holes, but Miss Faulk missed the green with her drive on the short fourth.

Miss Wright, who had 4-over-par 76 in the fourth round, picked up $1,200 for her victory. Miss Faulk, who closed with a 75, won $956.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

It's Usually Too Late

DEAR ABBY: I strenuously disagree with your advice to NO CHOPIN. There is no better way to kill a child's interest in music than to force him to take lessons and practice when he would rather be doing something else. As a boy I had considerable talent and might have made my career, except for the seven years I was forced to take lessons. This prevented me from ever becoming a decent pianist. I think "No Chopin" should be allowed to forget the piano until he has a natural desire to take it up.

MIGHT-HAVE-BEEN CHOPIN

And if children are permitted to put off the study of math, science, history, grammar, religion AND music until they have a "natural desire" to learn, many would never learn. I would like to know how a child with musical talent can develop it without instruction and practice. And so would millions of parents.

DEAR ABBY: We have a problem with our women's bowling league. We want to know how long a woman, who is pregnant,

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

It's Usually Too Late

DEAR ABBY: I strenuously disagree with your advice to NO CHOPIN. There is no better way to kill a child's interest in music than to force him to take lessons and practice when he would rather be doing something else. As a boy I had considerable talent and might have made my career, except for the seven years I was forced to take lessons. This prevented me from ever becoming a decent pianist. I think "No Chopin" should be allowed to forget the piano until he has a natural desire to take it up.

MIGHT-HAVE-BEEN CHOPIN
DEAR MIGHT: The best years for learning are the youthful years. And if children are permitted to put off the study of math, science, history, grammar, religion AND music until they have a "natural desire" to learn, many would never learn. I would like to know how a child with musical talent can develop it without instruction and practice. And so would millions of parents.

DEAR ABBY: We have a problem with our women's bowling league. We want to know how long a woman, who is pregnant, should be allowed to stay on the team. We want to set down a rule, but find it very difficult. Can you, or any experienced lady bowlers help us?

LADY BOWLERS
DEAR BOWLERS: The very thought of a pregnant woman bowling makes my back ache. Why must you have a rule? Let each pregnant bowler bow as long as her doctor allows her to.

DEAR ABBY: Congratulations on your opinion of the athlete who cried when he lost. You said, "There are no good losers. Just good actors." Having participated in, coached and watched athletic competition for almost 30 years, I can back you up. The old cliché, "It doesn't matter if you win or lose, but how you played the game," makes about as much sense as the doctor saying, "It doesn't matter if you live or die, but how I perform the operation."

Very truly yours,
BERKELEY

DEAR ABBY: I enjoyed the discussion pro and con in your column about double beds and twin beds. My husband kept complaining that I was too fat and I crowded him in our double bed. So he went out and bought twin beds. Now he sleeps with me in MY twin bed because he gets "lonesome."

REALLY CROWDED

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Views on Television-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Art Carney, walking out of the usual black background into the spotlight for his host chores on Sunday night's NBC "Fads and Foibles," described the program as a patchwork. Jumble would have been more apt.

It was another in what is fast becoming a tiresome series of clips from ancient movies showing early automobiles, Rudolph Valentino, the Charleston, suffragettes on the march and Woodrow Wilson throwing out the first baseball of the season.

For no particular reason NBC also added some tasteless film showing Elvis Presley in action, Marilyn Monroe, Whistler's mother and then saluted some states in song. In spite of the talents of Carney and comedienne Alice Ghostley, it was really a dismal effort. NBC is either going to have to find some new old film or get off its nostalgic kick.

Earlier Sunday evening CBS showed "Acres and Pains," a half-hour comedy made as sample for a series which doesn't seem to have a niche in next season's schedule. "Tis a pity. The lines were bright and amusing and the principals (Walter Matthau and Anne Jackson) dryly funny as a city couple moving to the country.

"Yves Montand on Broadway," repeated by NBC Friday night after an airing earlier in the season on ABC, was one of the brightest, most engaging variety hours of the season. The music was delightful and the dancing was fine. Montand had help from Polly Bergen and Bobby Van, but it was his show all the way.

The summer season already is pretty well along. Tonight, for example, there are two repeats on ABC, four on CBS and three on NBC. ("The Price is Right" and "Pete and Gladys" are the only series with fresh shows on NBC and CBS). And it will be worse for a long time before it gets better.

Recommended tonight: Bing Crosby Show, ABC, 10-11 (EDT)—Bob Hope, Edie Adams and Gary Crosby co-star in a musical-comedy special.

Redleg Chief Believes Pinson Tops Mays

Vada Is Now Ahead Of Willie's Pace in Homer Department

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Anything Willie Mays can do, Vada Pinson can do as well." That's Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson on the subject of two dashing National League center fielders, his own Pinson and wondrous Willie of the San Francisco Giants.

Vada had another productive afternoon Sunday with his 11th homer and a triple as the Reds won their fourth in a row, beating Pittsburgh's faltering Pirates 6-1. Cincinnati's unbeaten Bob Purkey became a six-game winner with a relief hit.

Meanwhile, even with Mays continuing his slump with an 0-for-5 performance, the Giants had little trouble romping over Houston 7-2 and holding onto their four-game lead.

Elsewhere in the NL, Los Angeles leap-frogged over St. Louis into second place, edging the Cardinals 4-3; Chicago eased out of the cellar in a doubleheader sweep over Philadelphia, 8-7 and 8-5 with reliever Barney Schultz winning both games; and Milwaukee dumped New York into last, trimming the Mets 3-2.

Pinson took over the major league leadership in home runs when he socked No. 11 against loser Bob Friend (4-3) in the first inning. Then, after a three-run homer by Jim Marshall helped pushed the Pirates in front 4-1 in the third, Vada tripled in one run and in the bottom of the inning and rode in on Frank Robinson's homer.

Cincinnati regained the lead in the sixth when Leo Cardenas singled in Gordie Coleman and added another run in the eighth on two errors by Dick Groat, a sacrifice and a pinch single by Joe Gaines.

Orlando Cepeda, Jim Davenport and Jose Pagan gave right-hander Jack Sanford his prime support in the Giants' runaway over Houston. Cepeda and Davenport rapped three hits each, while Pagan homered in the decisive four-run sixth inning and also had a single. Sanford (4-2) went the distance, allowing six hits, and was one out away from shutting out the Colts when Roman Mejias' double and Norm Larker's single chased in the Houston runs.

The loss went to winless Ken Johnson, now 0-5. The Dodgers regained second by cashing in all four of their runs in the eighth, aided by Ken Boyer's throwing error. Held hitless by Larry Jackson (3-4) for five innings and behind 2-0 after seven, the Dodgers drew even on Larry Burritt's double, a walk, and Boyer's bad throw on a sacrifice attempt.

Cleveland Vaults Into First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A year ago Cleveland right-hander Dick Donovan had a pitching percentage of zero (0-5 for Washington), Cleveland second baseman Jerry Kindall was batting zero (for 5 in 7 games for the Chicago Cubs) and the Cleveland team had a zero winning percentage against New York (0-2).

Today, Donovan leads all pitchers in the American League with a 6-0 record, Kindall is batting .277 but .364 in seven games against the Yankees and the Indians have beaten the world champions five of seven.

These statistics more than anything else explain why the Indians are in first place, a half-game in front of the Yankees who they whipped in both ends of a Sunday doubleheader 6-4 and 8-5.

With only a little more than a month of the season gone, the Indians, under freshman Manager Mel McGaha, already have beaten the Yankees more times than they did all last year under Manager Jimmy Dykes. In 1961 when the Indians finished fifth, 30½ games behind the Yankees, they won only 4 of 18 from New York. Minnesota, vying with Cleveland for the No. 1 surprise in the American League, clung to third place, only 1½ games off the pace, crushing Kansas City 10-3. Chicago's fourth place White Sox outslugged Los Angeles 15-6, Baltimore nipped Washington 3-2 and Detroit edged Boston 6-5.

The Indians pounded Whitey Ford and four more New York pitchers for two dozen hits, including four home runs. Catcher Johnny Romano had a three-run homer in the first inning of the first game, contributing largely to Ford's second defeat of the season. Kindall also had a three-run homer.

It was the second Sunday doubleheader sweep by Cleveland over the Yankees this season. The first was accomplished two weeks ago in Yankee Stadium where the Indians lost all nine decisions last year.

Veteran Vic Power and rookies Bernie Allen and Joe Bonikowski teamed up to bring Minnesota its 11th victory in the last 15 starts. Power drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and a single. Allen boosted his average 29 points to .260 with four hits, including two doubles and his fifth home run. The right-handed Bonikowski, in his first major league start, went the distance for his third victory in four decisions.

3 States Scheduled To Hold Their Primary Polls Tuesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Primary elections will be held in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Nebraska Tuesday, ending campaigns that ranged from dull to blistering.

The hottest scrap has been in Maryland where the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination was enlivened by a tape recording alleging a $5,000 campaign contribution in return for some city judgeships.

Overtones of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration are present in the Pennsylvania and Nebraska elections.

In Nebraska, Fred Seaton, former Republican senator and secretary of the interior in the Eisenhower cabinet, appears sure to win the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

In Pennsylvania, Eisenhower's home state, Congressman William Scranton is running for the GOP gubernatorial nomination with Eisenhower's approval.

Seven Democrats seek the Maryland gubernatorial nomination but the race has narrowed down to three men—Gov. J. Millard Tawes, paving contractor George Mahoney of Baltimore and David Hume, Texas-born lawyer and son-in-law of financier Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland.

Mahoney has bid for governor or senator in every primary since 1950 and has lost every time, sometimes by razor thin margins.

Fuel was added to an already warm campaign when Baltimore political leader Jack Pollack played for newsmen a tape recording he allegedly made of a 1958 meeting with Tawes, whom he supported. According to the tape, he gave Tawes $5,000 for election expenses in return for a promise that Tawes would name Pollack's choice to Baltimore city judgeships.

Tawes in a televised reply last week conceded that he discussed patronage with Pollack in 1958. But, he said, the politico's demands grew too great and in 1959, after he took office, he broke with Pollack.

Pollack announced his support of Mahoney in the current campaign.

Democrats also will choose a senatorial nominee with U.S. Rep. Daniel B. Brewster and State Sen. Blair Lee III the front-runners.

Two former congressmen apparently have the major Maryland Republican nominations well in hand. Frank Small Jr. seeks the gubernatorial nod and Edward T. Miller is running for the Senate seat held by Sen. John Marshall Butler, who is retiring.

Seaton has ignored his two Nebraska GOP foes to concentrate his fire on Gov. Frank Morrison, only elected Democrat in the normally Republican statehouse.

Morrison, on the other hand, is faced with a split in Democratic party leadership and a determined bid for the nomination by Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks, widow of the Democratic governor who died in office in 1960.

In Pennsylvania Scranton, 44, is expected to defeat J. Collins McSparran, State Grange master, in the GOP gubernatorial primary. Scranton emerged as the party leadership's choice when Eisenhower, through Sen. Hugh Scott, let it be known that he would campaign for the GOP ticket only if it was young and vigorous.

Former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth is expected to whip two other candidates in the bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Congressman James E. Van Zandt, Republican, and Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Democrat, have no primary opposition for nominations to Clark's Senate seat.

City's Street ...

that many city streets were not designed for the wheel loads or volume of traffic now being experienced. He said more funds would have to be made available to correct this situation.

Based on resurfacing only, of the approximate 35 miles of city streets, only 2.41 miles were paved with T-35 at a cost of $29,000 in 1961. Repairing existing base and surface represents an additional cost.

The $29,000 represents 28 per cent of the $102,000 allocated for streets in 1961. The balance went for preparation of streets to be paved, sealing, snow removal, street sweeping and other essential work.

At this rate, it would take 17 years to cover all streets in Circleville, Sharrett said. The cost per mile for T-35 in 1961 was $12,000.

In 1962, the city has estimated receipts of $77,000 in the street fund. Using a 30 per cent figure, there would be $23,000 available for actual resurfacing.

SHARRETT said this amount would pave approximately 2.0 miles using T-35 — the length of Court St. and 30 feet wide. Resurfacing with two courses of T-31 would cover about twice this area.

Since the T-31 would cover more area in one season, Sharrett said it may be wise to place the streets with a lower volume of traffic in this category.

The improvement program, designed as a long-range plan, also lists estimated appropriated funds for street paving in 1962 and a broad outline of proposed work through 1964.

The plan details proposals for which streets will receive T-35 and those recommended for T-31. The estimated cost for each street is listed.

The 1962 program calls for 5.4 miles of paving, 4.6 miles in 1963 and 6.0 miles in 1964.

Smaller Breakfasts Hurt Poultry Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says a trend toward smaller breakfasts is hurting the poultry industry.

A report said between 1951 and 1961 per capita consumption of eggs dropped 17 per cent despite a 21 per cent decline in retail egg prices.

"People apparently are eating smaller breakfasts," the report said. "In many cases the number of eggs served is reduced or eliminated altogether."

5 Fishermen Are Mangled By Sharks

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)

—The bodies of six men, all but one mangled by sharks, were recovered from the wind-whipped ocean near here Sunday. Three others still were missing.

The Coast Guard called it the worst sea tragedy in Southern California since 1952 when eight persons disappeared.

Searchers also recovered a bait tank and other debris from the 25-foot cabin cruiser on which the nine embarked on a fishing expedition early Saturday.

The craft, known as both the Happy Jack and the Cindy, apparently became swamped in choppy seas and sank Saturday, the Coast Guard reported. Winds were gusting up to 30 miles per hour.

The boat was on its first sea voyage under its owner, Chester McMain, 45, of Norwalk.

Others recovered were: Charles Chudy, 52, of Westminster; Harvey L. Johnston, 39, Los Angeles; Robert Herman Schmidt, 25, formerly of Stillwater, Okla., employed by a Los Angeles car loading firm; William F. Huffman, 29, Los Angeles, and John Treadway, 39, Bell Gardens.

Still missing were: E. R. Huffman, brother of one of those found dead; Richard Cain, 28, of Bell Gardens and Robert Gibson, 21, of Norwalk, McMain's son-in-law.

Muskingum College Gets 25 Glenn Scholarships

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP)—Establishment of 25 scholarships in the name of astronaut John Glenn was announced Saturday by Dr. Robert N. Montgomery, president of Muskingum College.

The announcement was made at a meeting of Muskingum's 125-member development committee, which also heard the news of a $20,000 gift from the United States Steel Foundation Inc.

City Kindergarten Registration Set

Final plans for Circleville kindergarten registration on May 25 for those children who will enter kindergarten in September, were announced today by George Hartman, superintendent of city schools.

Registration centers will be Walnut St. School for all pupils who live on Mill St. and south, and Franklin Street School for all pupils who live north of Mill Street, including High Street the Bloomdale Addition, Fairview Ave., Sunnyview Drive and Avon Drive, plus all territory adjacent to the Fairgrounds.

Atwater School will be the registration center for all pupils living north of High St. Kindergarten pupils will register at Franklin St. School. Kindergarten pupils from Wayne Twp. will register at Walnut School.

Pupils whose last names begin with the letter "A" through "M" should report for registration from 9 to 11:30 a. m. Those whose last names begin with the letter "N" through "Z" should report for registration from 1 to 3:30 p. m.

EVERY other pupil, according to the superintendent, will be assigned to an afternoon session. A parent desiring a change of assignment may trade with another parent.

There are two requirements for registration. The pupil must be 5-years-old on or before August 31, and a birth certificate must be presented to complete the registration.

The superintendent stressed the

DID YOU SAY $2000

YES—I SAID $2000

You don't need to be a "big shot" to get $2000 here. We like to make helpful cash loans to everyday, honest, working folks. Come right in. Take the cash, clean up bills, have everything in one place. Then take 1... 2... or 3 years to repay if you wish. Have low payments... more money on pay days. Phone or stop in.

3 States Scheduled To Hold Their Primary Polls Tuesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Primary elections will be held in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Nebraska Tuesday, ending campaigns that ranged from dull to blistering.

The hottest scrap has been in Maryland where the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination was enlivened by a tape recording alleging a $5,000 campaign contribution in return for some city judgeships.

Overtures of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration are present in the Pennsylvania and Nebraska elections.

In Nebraska, Fred Seaton, former Republican senator and secretary of the interior in the Eisenhower cabinet, appears sure to win the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

In Pennsylvania, Eisenhower's home state, Congressman William Scranton is running for the GOP gubernatorial nomination with Eisenhower's approval.

Seven Democrats seek the Maryland gubernatorial nomination but the race has narrowed down to three men—Gov. J. Millard Tawes, paving contractor George Mahoney of Baltimore and David Hume, Texas-born lawyer and son-in-law of financier Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland.

Mahoney has bid for governor or senator in every primary since 1950 and has lost every time, sometimes by razor thin margins.

Fuel was added to an already warm campaign when Baltimore political leader Jack Pollack played for newsmen a tape recording he allegedly made of a 1958 meeting with Tawes, whom he supported. According to the tape, he gave Tawes $5,000 for election expenses in return for a promise that Tawes would name Pollack's choices to Baltimore city judgeships.

Tawes in a televised reply last week conceded that he discussed patronage with Pollack in 1958. But, he said, the politico's demands grew too great and in 1959, after he took office, he broke with Pollack.

Pollack announced his support of Mahoney in the current campaign.

Democrats also will choose a senatorial nominee with U.S. Rep. Daniel B. Brewster and State Sen. Blair Lee III the front-runners.

Two former congressmen apparently have the major Maryland Republican nominations well in hand. Frank Small Jr. seeks the gubernatorial nod and Edward T. Miller is running for the Senate seat held by Sen. John Marshall Butler, who is retiring.

Seaton has ignored his two Nebraska GOP foes to concentrate his fire on Gov. Frank Morrison, only elected Democrat in the normally Republican statehouse.

Morrison, on the other hand, is faced with a split in Democratic party leadership and a determined bid for the nomination by Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks, widow of the Democratic governor who died in office in 1960.

In Pennsylvania Scranton, 44, is expected to defeat J. Collins McSparran, State Grange master, in the GOP gubernatorial primary. Scranton emerged as the party leadership's choice when Eisenhower, through Sen. Hugh Scott, let it be known that he would campaign for the GOP ticket only if it was young and vigorous.

Former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth is expected to whip two other candidates in the bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Congressman James E. Van Zandt, Republican, and Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Democrat, have no primary opposition for nominations to Clark's Senate seat.

City's Street . . .

that many city streets were not designed for the wheel loads or volume of traffic now being experienced. He said more funds would have to be made available to correct this situation.

Based on resurfacing only, of the approximately 35 miles of city streets, only 2.41 miles were paved with T-35 at a cost of $29,000 in 1961. Repairing existing base and surface represents an additional cost.

The $29,000 represents 28 per cent of the $102,000 allocated for streets in 1961. The balance went for preparation of streets to be paved, sealing, snow removal, street sweeping and other essential work.

At this rate, it would take 17 years to cover all streets in Circleville, Sharrett said. The cost per mile for T-35 in 1961 was $12,000.

In 1962, the city has estimated receipts of $77,000 in the street fund. Using a 30 per cent figure, there would be $23,000 available for actual resurfacing.

SHARRETT said this amount would pave approximately 2.0 miles using T-35 — the length of Court St. and 30 feet wide. Resurfacing with two courses of T-31 would cover about twice this area.

Since the T-31 would cover more area in one season, Sharrett said it may be wise to place the streets with a lower volume of traffic in this category.

The improvement program, designed as a long-range plan, also lists estimated appropriated funds for street paving in 1962 and a broad outline of proposed work through 1964.

The plan details proposals for which streets will receive T-35 and those recommended for T-31. The estimated cost for each street is listed.

The 1962 program calls for 5.4 miles of paving, 4.6 miles in 1963 and 6.0 miles in 1964.

Smaller Breakfasts Hurt Poultry Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says a trend toward smaller breakfasts is hurting the poultry industry.

A report said between 1951 and 1961 per capita consumption of eggs dropped 17 per cent despite a 21 per cent decline in retail egg prices.

"People apparently are eating smaller breakfasts," the report said. "In many cases the number of eggs served is reduced or eliminated altogether."

5 Fishermen Are Mangled By Sharks

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The bodies of six men, all but one mangled by sharks, were recovered from the wind-whipped ocean near here Sunday. Three others still were missing.

The Coast Guard called it the worst sea tragedy in Southern California since 1952 when eight persons disappeared.

Searchers also recovered a bait tank and other debris from the 25-foot cabin cruiser on which the nine embarked on a fishing expedition early Saturday.

The craft, known as both the Happy Jack and the Cindy, apparently became swamped in choppy seas and sank Saturday, the Coast Guard reported. Winds were gusting up to 30 miles per hour.

The boat was on its first sea voyage under its owner, Chester McMain, 45, of Norwalk.

Others recovered were: Charles Chudy, 52, of Westminster; Harvey L. Johnston, 30, Los Angeles; Robert Herman Schmidt, 25, formerly of Stillwater, Okla., employed by a Los Angeles car loading firm; William F. Huffman, 29, Los Angeles, and John Treadway, 39, Bell Gardens.

Still missing were: E. R. Huffman, brother of one of those found dead; Richard Cain, 28, of Bell Gardens; and Robert Gibson, 21, of Norwalk, McMain's son-in-law.
